DR. BELL INVENTOR OF PHONE, SUCCUMBS

Alexander Graham Bell

SYDNEY, N. S., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died at 2:00 o'clock this morning at Belm Brough, his estate near Baddeck.

Although the inventor had been in failing health for several months, he had not been confined to bed and the end was unexpected. Late yesterday afternoon, however, his condition became serious, and Dr. Kerr, of Washington, a cousin of Mrs. Bell, a house guest, and a Sydney physician attended him.

With Mr. Bell when he died were Mrs. Bell, a daughter, Mrs. Marian Hubbard Fairchild, and her husband, David G. Fairchild, of Washington. The inventor leaves another daughter, Mrs. Elsie M. Grosvenor, wife of a Washington magazine editor.

Dr. Bell will be buried on top of Mount Belm Brough, a spot chosen by himself.

Bell's Death Shock To Friends
WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—News of the death of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell at his summer place and laboratories at Baddeck, Nova Scotia, came as a shock to the scientist's many friends and associates in Washington, although they knew he had been failing for several months. At a birth anniversary some months ago, Dr. Bell's friends were surprised to see that he had become feeble from age and the last year and that his remarkable vigor was fast disappearing.

Members of the National Geographic Society, in which Dr. Bell was a member, received word of his death from private advices from Baddeck.

Dr. Bell's home here is closed for business.

Flags at Half Mast
WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, on hearing of Dr. Bell's death, ordered all the flags throughout the United States to be flown at half mast.

Reed Leading Long In Missouri; Sutherland Victorious In W. Va.

(By the Associated Press)
United States Senator Reed was running approximately 14,014 ahead of Breckenridge Long today on returns from 70 per cent of the 3,848 precincts in the Missouri democratic senatorial race, while William Sacks, beer and light wine candidate, was leading R. R. Brewster, endorsed by the old guard for the Republican senatorial nomination by 2,779 on returns from 2,907 precincts from yesterday's election.

In Oklahoma, Mayor Walton, of Oklahoma City, anti-Klan candidate, was leading R. H. Wilson by eight thousand, with less than a third of the precincts in.

Miss Alice Robertson, only woman in congress, was well ahead in her race for renomination by the third district Oklahoma Republicans, and Manuel Herrick, self-styled "serial dare-devil of congress," was running a poor third in the eighth Oklahoma district.

In Kansas, W. Y. Morgan, Hutchinson, newspaper man, was leading W. R. Stubb, former governor, by a narrow margin for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Congressman Philip Campbell conceded loss of his race for renomination. Elizabeth Lorraine Wooster, who created a state stir by opposing dancing and use of cosmetics in the schools, was five thousand behind her leading male opponent in her race for renomination as Kansas superintendent of public instruction.

In West Virginia, Senator Sutherland, Republican, apparently had a safe lead for renomination, while on returns from about half the precincts Mrs. Izetta Brown was running seven thousand behind M. M. Neely for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, had a lead of about 3 to 1 in his race for renomination on returns from 75 out of 100 counties.

ST. LOUIS, MO., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Senator James A. Reed's lead over Breckenridge Long in the race for the nomination for United States senator receded late today to 14,014 as additional precincts favorable to the former assistant secretary of state, reported from yesterday's primary election. Returns from 70 percent of 3,848 precincts in the state gave Reed 166,332; Long, 152,518. This was a loss of nearly 10,000 in Reed's lead, as shown at his highest point.

In the Republican senatorial race, William Sacks, advocate of light wines and beer, led R. R. Brewster, "old guard" candidate, by 2,779, on returns from 2,907 out of 3,848 precincts.

Practically all of St. Louis Sacks' stronghold, had reported, while more than 1,700 country precincts where Brewster was strong were still out.

The Reed-Long race has eclipsed everything else in interest. Reed, running behind in the early hours of the count, took the lead early this morning when St. Louis and Kansas City, his two strongholds, came in with their thousands of votes. His lead, at its peak, reached nearly 24,000, but with the two big cities complete and additional returns coming in, Long began overhauling him.

Political leaders here estimated the contest will be settled by 3,000 to 4,000 majority. It is certain that it will take practically complete returns to pick the winner. Five counties, four of them in the Ozark mountains, have not been heard from at all. Mr. Long was still confident at noon today that he would win, relying upon the missing rural vote to overcome the Reed lead. Senator Reed did not reach some forty of the state's 114 counties, including practically all of those in the Ozarks, in his campaign, and Mr. Long has had an appreciable edge in those districts.

The Brewster-Sacks race, while overshadowed by the Democratic primary, has brought a surprise to politicians. Sacks, who has made a fortune in oil, started life as a 360 a month postal clerk in the St. Louis post office. While he stood 2,779 ahead with more than half the state in, political writers here estimated Brewster would win by anywhere from 8,000 to 15,000, as practically all of the territory where Sacks conceded strength has reported, while the missing districts are in rural communities.

It was admitted that Sacks' platform made forecasting difficult and this was further shown when the first sixty precincts from the rural districts showed the same proportion of strength for the beer and wine candidate.

The Reed-Long race overshadowed all other issues in the primary campaign. Ex-President Wilson took a hand and in letters to friends in Missouri commended Reed as a "murderer." His opponents formed "Rid 'Em of Reed Clubs" and the senator himself assailed his foes and defended his policies.

On the Republican side on the face of returns from 1,748 precincts in the Republican senatorial race, William Sacks, wealthy oil man, and one time 800 a month postal clerk, is running ahead of R. R. Brewster, of Kansas City, and far ahead of the three progressives as a result of strong support in St. Louis for his light wines and beer platform.

All four of the women candidates for congress apparently have been defeated.

TOPEKA, KANS., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—W. Y. Morgan, Hutchinson, newspaper man and former lieutenant governor, led the closest of his six opponents for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at yesterday's primary, by 1,735 votes when returns from 47 of 105 counties had been tabulated early today. Fred W. Knapp, endorsed by labor unions, was fifth. Mrs. W. D. Mowry and Miss Helen Pettigrew, the latter running on a beer and light wines platform, polled fewer votes than had been expected.

Returns from the Democratic gubernatorial contest were meager. They indicated a close three-cornered contest.

Sutherland Has Commanding Lead
CHARLESTON, W. VA., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—H. C. Ogden, publisher of Wheeling, admitted this afternoon that Senator Howard Sutherland held a commanding lead for Republican renomination on the face of yesterday's primary election returns from 1,168 of 2,093 precincts, but he declined to concede victory to his opponent.

The Democratic senatorial contest attracted considerable interest, chiefly because of the strength which Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown, of Kingwood, although she seemingly lost the nomination to M. M. Neely, of Fairmont, Republican congressmen in the six districts were renominated by sizeable pluralities.

M. M. Neely, former representative, was first in the Democratic race, his vote being 30,671 to 21,315 for Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown, his only opponent. Mrs. Brown, who made a vigorous canvass, refused at her home in Kingwood, to acknowledge defeat.

Swanson In The Lead
RICHMOND, VA., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Practically complete returns early today from three-fourths of the 100 counties in Virginia and scattering returns from the others appeared to assure Senator Claude A. Swanson, of the Democratic nomination for United States senator in his contest with former Governor Westmoreland Davis.

Swanson's majority late today was 57,511.

During the campaign Senator Swanson stood on his record in the senate, making no speeches, while Mr. Davis made his campaign on his record as governor and as issues.

Texas Faces Hot Battle In Primary

DALLAS, TEXAS, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Whether certain leaders in the Democratic party in Texas will support Earle B. Mayfield or James E. Ferguson for United States senator in the campaign which will close in the primary of August 26, is attracting almost as much interest among the rank and file of the party as which of the two men finally will be nominated.

Mr. Mayfield, through his campaign preceding the first primary, July 22, refused to acknowledge that the Ku Klux Klan was an issue in the race. He popularly was credited with having had the solid support of the Klansmen in Texas and was expected to get it in the present campaign. His managers, when questioned concerning that phase, reiterated that Mr. Mayfield refuses to recognize the Klan question as vital, but that he is grateful for support of either Klan or anti-Klan.

Mr. Ferguson has had a storied political career in Texas. He was impeached when governor and in the campaign preceding the July 22 primary asked the voters to vindicate him. He has been fought bitterly by many Democrats and his victory in getting second place over Senator Culberson in the first primary of July, thereby eliminating the senator from the August primary, caused a political sensation. He appealed to the labor vote and the agricultural vote. He attacked the federal reserve system and emphasized his friendliness to organized labor. While not much was said about it before the July primary, the fact that Mr. Ferguson asked the Democratic state committee to take steps to put before Texas voters whether they desired light wines and beer is now being discussed as a possible factor in his support. The committee refused to act on Mr. Ferguson's petition, but it served to make his attitude clear.

Woman As Sheriff

ARKANSAS CITY, ARK., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—A small woman with a smile on her lips and laughter in her voice, today was charged with the duties pertaining thereto. She is Mrs. Willie Clara Murphy, the state's first woman sheriff, appointed by Governor McKee as sheriff of Desha county.

Standing five feet in shoes with heels of medium height, and weighing about 120 pounds, Mrs. Murphy is the opposite of anything the imagination might picture as a county sheriff. She is "comparatively young." The sheriff's star gleams from her belt, decorously placed so as to be partly hidden from view.

And guns? Well, "No, indeed, I won't carry a gun," said Mrs. Murphy.

Bootleggers, if any should wander into the county, will be harshly dealt with, Mrs. Murphy said.

"I will have four or five deputies," she said, "and I anticipate no difficulty."

Ohio Primary Scramble Near Close

COLUMBUS, O., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Probable strength of the progressive Republican and the beer and light wine candidates for state office is attracting chief interest in the last week of Ohio's pre-primary campaign. The Ohio primary election will be held next Tuesday.

The Republican contest for the nomination for governor continues to attract the major attention. There are nine candidates in this race, one of whom, Carmi A. Thompson, former treasurer of the United States, has the support of President Harding, himself an Ohioan. Two of the candidates, Congressman Charles L. Knight, of Akron, and Daniel W. Williams, of Jackson, are progressives, while two others, C. Homer Durand, of Coshocton, and J. W. Durnell, of Columbus, have declared for light wines and beer.

Harvey C. Smith, now secretary of state, also is charged by prohibition forces with being a liberal, but has declared for a strict law enforcement administration. State Senator Arthur H. Day, of Cleveland, author of the Ohio bonus law, is the only ex-soldier candidate. The other two candidates are R. K. Beetham, speaker of the house, and Harry Clay Smith, Cleveland negro editor.

State capital politicians believe that the main fight in the Republican contest for the gubernatorial nomination will be between Thompson, Knight, Harvey C. Smith and Durand.

K. Of C. Shows 83,809 Membership Increase

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—An increase of 83,809 in the membership of the Knights of Columbus during the last year was announced today by Supreme Secretary William J. McGinley in his report to the international convention of the order here. The total assets of the organization, the report stated, are approximately $15,000,000.

Deaths for the year totaled 5,281, many being former servants, men who died of war injuries.

Wants All Ballots Inspected

COLUMBUS, O., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Letters were sent to boards of elections throughout the state today by Secretary of State Smith insisting that, on primary night, every ballot be inspected by each precinct judge and inspector, Democratic and Republican. It is a violation of the law Smith said, for Republicans to count Republican votes and Democrats the Democratic votes and every violation will result in dismissal.

"It is my duty," Secretary Smith said, "to see that each candidate receives every vote that is polled for him and if I find any violations of the law it will result in immediate dismissal. It rests with the various boards of elections to see that these instructions are carried out."

Non-Stop Flight From Berlin To Moscow

MOSCOW, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—A Junkers' airplane piloted by Here Gottle, accompanied by a mechanic and one passenger, has completed the first non-stop flight from Berlin to Moscow, a distance of 1,189 miles. The journey occupied 10 hours and 40 minutes, the average speed being approximately 110 miles an hour.

Editor Of John Bull Expelled From Commons

LONDON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Horatio Bottomley, former editor of John Bull, has been expelled from the house of commons by a vote of the members. Bottomley was convicted at Old Bailey on May 29 on 23 out of 24 counts, charging him with fraudulently converting to his own use about 150,000 pounds subscribed to his victory bond and other clubs. He was sentenced to seven years penal servitude. As editor of John Bull, he carried on a sensational anti-American campaign.

Representative Padgett Of Tennessee Dies

WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Representative Leonard P. Padgett, of Tennessee, died early today at his home here.

Mr. Padgett, who was war time chairman of the house naval committee, had been ill at his residence here for two months. The body will be taken to his home at Columbia, for burial. First elected from the seventh Tennessee district to the 57th congress, Mr. Padgett had served continuously for 22 years. He was the dean of his delegation.

Senator Wm. E. Crow Succumbs

UNIONTOWN, PA., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—United States Senator William E. Crow, died at his country home in the mountains near here this morning.

Senator Crow was taken ill three years ago, and although under the care of eminent physicians, was never afterwards considered physically fit. He was taken to a Pittsburgh hospital last December, but until a few months ago did his physical condition that he was suffering from pernicious anemia and that it had been necessary to resort to blood transfusion on a number of occasions to prolong his life. He had so far recovered in May that he was removed to his summer home in the Allegheny mountains near here. Improvement, however, was only temporary and additional transfusions of blood were of no avail.

Senator Crow was born on a farm in Fayette county, afterward the center of the Pennsylvania coke industry. March 10, 1870. He was appointed by Governor Sprout to succeed the late Philander C. Knox in the United States senate.

PHILADELPHIA, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The death of Senator Crow makes the third vacancy in the United States senate from Pennsylvania within ten months. Senator P. C. Knox died on October 12, last, and Senator Boies Penrose on New Year's eve.

Senator Crow was appointed by Governor Sprout to fill the Knox vacancy until a successor was elected in November. Senator Crow, because of illness, declined to become a candidate for the term which expires next March, and Major David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, was nominated at the May primary without opposition by the Republicans, both for the unexpired term and the full term, beginning in March. Political leaders here today said they expected Governor Sprout to appoint Major Reed to succeed Senator Crow because he was the party's choice for the unexpired and full term of the late Senator Knox.

PRESIDENT HAS THE STRIKE CONTROVERSY BACK ON HIS HANDS

DEVELOPMENTS IN RAIL STRIKE SITUATION

(By the Associated Press)
Chiefs of striking railroad shop workers accept President Harding's proposals for ending strike. Railroad executives late yesterday rejected the president's program, firmly refusing to yield on the question of seniority. President Harding expected to defer further action toward peace over today.

Railroads post notices that the men employed in strikers places will be protected fully in regard to seniority.

New York Central Railroad announces many strikers returning to work.

DEVELOPMENTS IN COAL STRIKE SITUATION

(By the Associated Press)
Secretary of Commerce Hoover takes steps to speed up government's emergency coal control organization.

Seven hundred and fifty Indiana guardsmen called from camp to Indianapolis. No announcement made as to whether they are to be used in Governor McCray's plans to reopen mines under state protection.

Resumption of negotiations between anthracite operators and miners believed near.

CHICAGO, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The federated shop crafts today voted approval of President Harding's plans to end the rail strike and appointed a committee to draw up a reply accepting them.

The reply, however, will be subject to adoption by the more than 100 labor chiefs before going to the president.

The first announcement from the labor leaders simply said that they had voted acceptance. Later it developed that some opposition had sprung up in the meeting and that a fight against the acceptance might be made after the text of it was drawn up. For this reason, it was made subject to amendment. The meeting will resume its session at 3:30 p. m.

CLAIM STRIKERS RETURNING TO WORK

NEW YORK, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The New York Central lines today announced that more applications for positions in their shops had been received within three hours at division points this morning than for many days past. According to the announcement, many applicants were strikers, who stated they had been waiting to see what action the railway executives of the country would take on President Harding's settlement plan.

Employment agencies which have been mobilizing shopmen for the New York Central lines since the strike began also reported a large increase in applications today, the announcement declared, adding that it had been necessary to resort to blood transfusion on a number of occasions to prolong his life. He had so far recovered in May that he was removed to his summer home in the Allegheny mountains near here. Improvement, however, was only temporary and additional transfusions of blood were of no avail.

HOOVER EXPECTS NO ACTION TODAY

WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Secretary Hoover, after reporting to President Harding today on the railway executives' meeting yesterday in New York, which the commerce secretary attended as the representative of the president, said he did not look for any action during the day by the executive in the rail strike situation.

Mr. Hoover on leaving the White House was positive that the president would forward no reply today to the railroad executives. No indication was given by the secretary that the administration was formulating a new program as a result of yesterday's refusal by the rail executives to accept the president's seniority proposal. Mr. Hoover said he was not now primarily interested in the railroad strike and indicated he would devote his energies mainly to the distribution of coal.

As far as he knew, Mr. Hoover said, no White House conferences with either representatives of the striking railroad shopmen or railway executives were planned.

Rail Executives Say They Are Standing Behind The Rail Labor Board

NEW YORK, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—In rejecting the third section of President Harding's proposals for ending the shopmen's strike, the railroads are standing behind the railroad labor board, according to rail executives, who pointed out today that the board had told the men who refused to strike that they would have seniority rights and permanent employment.

Spokesmen for the railroads stated that the program adopted at the meeting of the more than 150 executives was that and that the executives would act as a unit.

Harding To Study Reply
WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Careful study of the railway executives' reply refusing to accept President Harding's plan for settlement of the shopmen's strike so far as it dealt with the seniority issue and also that expected from the labor leaders meeting in Chicago was expected today to precede any further move by the executive in the strike situation. There had been no indication of what new step, if any, the government planned to take.

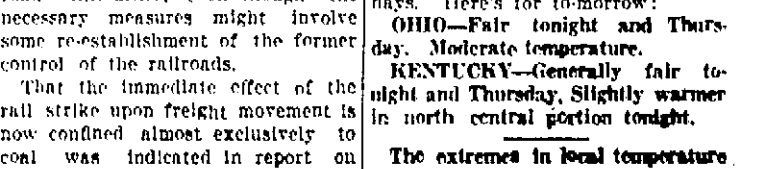

The government, it is known, views the railroad strike as serious in effect only because of the present stoppage of coal production. In order to cope with that problem, it has been intimated repeatedly that the administration would be disposed to force a quick settlement of the railroad difficulties, even though the necessary measures might involve some re-establishment of the former control of the railroads.

That the immediate effect of the rail strike upon freight movement is now confined almost exclusively to coal was indicated in report on freight handled by all railroads during the week ended July 22, issued by the car service division of the American Railway Association. The report showed that, although coal loadings as compared with the previous week fell off 1,274 cars, the movement of all other commodities was "the heaviest for this season of the year of any in the history of the railroads." It fell, the report said, just "nineteenths of one per cent below the peak of October 15, 1920."

Board Planning For Record Fair

Additional details that are expected to make the twenty-eighth annual Seoto County Fair at Lucasville, August 8, 9, 10 and 11, the biggest and best ever, were discussed at an important meeting of the directors of the Seoto County Agricultural Society Tuesday afternoon at the fair grounds.

Indications are that the exhibit of livestock this year will be larger than the stock barns will take care of and in order to meet the demand for space it will be necessary to secure several big tents. These tents can be obtained at Camp Sherman and A. S. Moulton and P. H. Harsha were named as a committee to rent or buy several big tents. At present there are 55 head of sheep on the grounds and during the last five or six years sheep have not been exhibited. Two more big herds are expected before the fair opens.

P. H. Harsha was named to look after newspaper advertising and publicity. The trail just north of Lucasville was reported in fine shape and it was decided to place guards on both sides of the crossing to prevent accidents. The fair grounds have been placed in fine shape and are ready for opening day.

An eight passenger airplane from Cleveland has been contracted for. It will be at the fair all four days and will take up passengers probably from the Dr. J. N. Thomas pasture just south of the fair grounds. A number of carnival concessions have been booked in addition to eight free acts. No band has been engaged as a jazz orchestra is among the free acts. The Ohio Valley Grange Band from near Friend ship is expected to be present one day.

It was also decided to allow $150 for premium money for Grand exhibitors. The Granges will have their exhibits in the building formerly used for the display of chickens. Chickens will be exhibited this year under the dining hall, along with machinery.

P. H. Harsha will be at the Pike town fair this week to make plans for horse races at the local fair.

Kiwanis Club Will Push Hopedale Home Fund; Also Boosting Park Band Concerts

While the attendance at the week-ly noon luncheons of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at the Mary Louise bore out the assertion that no organization is invulnerable to the "summer slump," nevertheless what was lacking in numbers was more than offset by today's session of the club. About forty members were present and the interest in the Hopedale Home fund was shown in the raising of funds for the completion and thorough equipment of Hopedale Home was intensified by an address by the superintendent of the institution, "Mother" Johnson, who talked for about one-half hour and told many interesting features about the home. She was given a most respectful hearing and gladly answered all questions asked concerning the management of the home, which has proven a haven of rest for many an unfortunate girl. In all, Mrs. Johnson stated that 197 girls had been cared for in the home, and more than that number turned away because of the lack of facilities. She stated with the present plans it would be possible for the home to care for at least twenty-five girls, most of whom develop into good women. It is one of the aims of the home to not only care for the girls during their travail, but to look out for them when they leave the institution.

The Kiwanis Club is behind the movement to raise sufficient funds for the completion of the building, and Mrs. Johnson was assured that she not only had the sympathy of the membership, but would have their active support in the raising of the money. The committee will report complete plans for the financial drive at the next meeting when Dr. O. D. Taylor will discuss the proposition from the standpoint of the medical fraternity.

The Kiwanians were delighted to learn the members of the Exchange Club were so successful in the sale of hand concert tickets. The two clubs are going to make it possible for at least eight and possibly ten free concerts the first to be given on next Sunday afternoon at the Mound park.

Local Shopmen Face Contempt Charge

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 2.—Attorneys for the Norfolk & Western railroad appeared today before Judge Peck in United States district court and asked that the court issue a rule for the appearance before him of John E. Morgan, Fourth street, Portsmouth, and Patrick Graham, of East Portsmouth, alleging violation of the temporary injunction issued some time ago against striking shopmen on the N. & W. at Portsmouth. Judge Peck set the hearing for September 1.

NEW BOSTON CHAUTAUQUA OPENS

Before a splendid crowd yesterday at New Boston, the first Chautauqua being held at the Casino, Edward Tomlinson, known on two continents for his ability as a lecturer, and Skibinsky, a Russian violin artist, appeared on the second afternoon and evening of the Radcliffe Chautauqua program and were greeted with great enthusiasm. The same speakers with different programs and arrangements give their presentations before both afternoon and evening audiences. The time of programs is 2:30 for the afternoon and 8:00 for the evening.

The Chautauqua, which is sponsored by the New Boston business men, is making a big hit with the people who are taking great interest in all the programs.

Edward T. Tomlinson, spoke yesterday on "America's Ideal in Social Service," a lecture dealing with the problems affecting national life. Skibinsky, handicapped with a maimed hand, played with a brilliancy and sweetness of tone rarely heard.

Davis Scores Hall For Halting Mines

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 2.—By the Associated Press.—Governor Davis today made public a letter which he has addressed to President Lee Hall, of the Ohio miners' union, upon the question of the latter's veto of arrangements made to open two mines to supply coal for state institutions.

The executive's letter refers to the mine union president's action as a misunderstanding and expresses regret that the welfare of inmates in the state institutions should be jeopardized by it. The governor said in his letter that Secretary Savage, of the miners' union, had given Percy Tedlow, director of industrial relations, assurance that the plan to supply union miners to open the two mines would meet with approval.

"At any rate," the governor's letter said, "the fact that district mine leaders were actually notified to release men for operation of the mines in question; that the miners themselves were on the verge of resuming operations at the time you notified your district leaders of your adverse attitude on your return to the city, clearly verifies, if verification is needed, the conduct of negotiations and their result."

After hearing the evidence in the divorce and alimony suit of Margaret Hanson, New Boston, against Charles Hanson, steelworker, in Common Pleas court Wednesday, Judge Thomas dismissed the plaintiff's petition for lack of proof in support of her charges.

In dismissing the case the court stated that the testimony indicated strongly that the plaintiff had not been properly advised and he urged the couple to forget the past, reconcile their differences and resume their marital relations.

They were married March 1, 1920, and the wife told the court that Hanson abandoned her about six weeks later and that he had since refused to live with or support her and their child. She further complained that during the short time they lived together the defendant showed no love or affection for her, that he became sullen, treated her with contempt and on one occasion threatened to shoot her.

Hanson denied her statements, declaring that she refused to live with him although he had been ready and willing at all times to take her and make a home for her and their child. He asserted that the plaintiff insisted on living with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Dan William.

At the conclusion of the trial as the parties were leaving the Court House, Mrs. Cullum caused a scene by attempting to attack her son-in-law, Hanson, and succeeded in striking him a couple of times before he dodged out of the way. The trait woman was soon quieted when Judge Bly threatened to call an officer and she hurried away with her relatives in a machine.

Attorney R. P. Kimple represented the wife and Judge Bly appeared for Hanson.

To Have Challengers To Prevent Primary Fraud

According to a prominent Republican, the executive committee will insist that the Board of Election appoint a challenger for each voting precinct in the county, 79 in all. This action will be taken, it is said, because the report has reached the ears of the Republicans that quite a large number of Democrats expected to vote the Republican ticket at the primary on August 8th.

According to the Republican who informed the Times of the contemplated action of the executive committee, no Democrat can vote a Republican primary ballot unless he takes oath that he supported majority of the Republican candidates at the last general election. Of course, the same thing applies to Republicans who would vote the Democratic primary ballot.

Two Boys Drown In Brush Creek

A double drowning, one of the most tragic affairs in the McDermott community in years, was recorded Tuesday afternoon when Henry and Russell Teeters, 15 and 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Teeters, well known residents of McDermott, lost their lives in a swimming hole in Brush Creek, just west of the McDermott Stone Company's mill.

The bodies of the brothers were recovered shortly after four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and it is thought that they drowned about 1:30. There were no witnesses to the regrettable tragedy, and just how the brothers met death will never be known.

Two theories are advanced. One is that the younger brother fell in first and that the older brother jumped in after him in an attempt to rescue his younger brother. Another is that both lads fell in together.

Had Visited City

The entire family, with the exception of the father, had been in Portsmouth Tuesday morning, and while here, one of the boys in the family made a deposit in a local bank of money he had been saving in a child's bank at home. It was about noon when the family arrived home, and about 1:30 the young lad, who was extremely proud of his bank book showing his first deposit, asked to see the book. It could not be found and one of the children suggested that maybe Henry or Russell had the book. A search was then started by the brothers. It was the missing bank book that caused an immediate search to be made for the lads. George knew where his brothers had played many times before and he went there for them, but they were not there. After a fruitless search in other places, the father was notified. George had heard boys yelling, but learned later it was other boys in the neighborhood who had made the cries.

Heard Lads Calling

Shortly before he returned to the creek bank, George says he heard one of the lads calling, but did not pay much attention to the cries, as he thought his brothers were playing. Later, when he found them missing from the bank, he did not connect the yells with their disappearance, but looked in other places for them. It was about four o'clock when the father, who was working at the stone mill, and other employees joined in a search for the missing boys. After George Teeters explained that he could not locate them in any of their usual haunts.

Lawrence Braunman, Louis Colley and Jacob Koch, employees of the McDermott stone mill, assisted in the search and when they visited the creek they found a cap belonging to one of the lads. The cap was floating in the creek near the swing on which the boys had been playing. A search of the creek was started immediately and within two hours, or about four o'clock, the first body was found near where the lads were left on the bank by the brother George. The rope swing on the bank swung out over the water, and it is thought one brother, or both, fell from the swing. Both lads were fully clothed and their bodies were brought to the top by a garden rake, which caught in the clothing.

Bodies Are Recovered

The body of Russell was first brought to the surface and a few minutes later the body of Henry was found in almost the same spot. The water at the place where the bodies were found is about fifteen feet deep and is a favorite swimming hole at McDermott.

Neither Boy Could Swim

The condition of the bodies throws no light upon their fate. Both appear to have been in the water about the same length of time.

Citizens of McDermott, however, in view of the fact that George Teeters thinks he heard the cries of his twin brother, Henry, are inclined to believe the former theory, that, when the younger brother sunk below the surface of the waters, the elder called and bravely without a thought for his own safety jumped in instantly in a futile effort to rescue his brother, knowing, certainly, that he did it at the risk of his own life.

The father said last night that he had told the lads repeatedly to stay away from the creek, and that, Monday night, he had repeated his admonitions.

Village Saddened By Tragedy
The little village is saddened by the tragic occurrence, and the parents and brothers and sisters of the two lads are in a pitiable condition from shock and grief.

Braunman and Colley, after removing the bodies from the water, carried them tenderly to their home, and placed them in the beds, where, for so long, the young victims had enjoyed the sweet and wholesome rest of childhood.

Children Were Well Known

The Teeters family has lived in McDermott for several years, and the lads were well known throughout the village. Last evening their little playmates, many of whom had joined in the search for them in the afternoon, recounted to each other, and to their parents' tales of play days, when they had gathered and chatted away the precious hours of youth; recounted the unselfish kindness of the two little victims.

and told of friendships made in childhood's trustfulness. The whole village joined the bereaved family in mourning the loss of their two children.

Sister Employed at Selby Plant

A sister, Miss Mary Teeters, is employed in the Selby Shoe Co. plant and lives at the home of her mother's sister, Mrs. Adam Richter, 1533 Chillicothe street. When she was notified of the tragedy, she immediately left for McDermott, accompanied by her aunt.

The two lads are survived by their parents, three brothers, Robert, George and Perry, and one sister, Mary. Richard Shope and Charles Shope, two brothers of Mrs. Teeters, live in McDermott. Before her marriage, Mrs. Teeters was Miss Dora Shope.

The family moved to McDermott nine years ago from Houley, where the two boys were born.

Dr. J. D. Hendrickson, the county coroner, who was called shortly after the finding of the bodies, went to the scene yesterday evening, and, after viewing the remains, stated that death was due to accidental drowning.

Undertaker W. L. Reeg of Lucasville was called yesterday evening and prepared the bodies for burial.

Still Found; Owner Missing

When the police visited the girl with the still and liquor, while at a party at 251 Main street Tuesday night, they found in an upstairs room occupied by H. J. Darrell, a complete whiskey making outfit, including a twenty gallon copper still, hydrometer for testing liquor, two barrels of mash and a small quantity of the finished product.

In a rooming house across the street from the party place, the police found several bottles of still home brew which were seized and taken to the police station.

The officers who are in the place, a number of interested parties, who had been waiting for the police to arrive, were also present.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of H. J. Darrell, who is the owner of the still and liquor.

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have been told that they must diet and exercise to keep trim, and who have tried every known method, have failed to get the results they desire. The reason is that they have not used the right method.

Dr. J. H. Hudson, of the Hudson Dispensary, says that the reason for this is that the diet and exercise method is not a permanent solution. The only way to keep trim is by using the Hudson method.

The Hudson method is a simple, easy, and pleasant way to keep trim. It is based on the use of a special food called "Grape-Nuts".

The RED HOUSE MYSTERY

by A. A. MILNE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The prospective visit of a well-known brother, who had been absent for fifteen years in Australia, was a far from pleasing prospect to MARK ABLETT, bachelor proprietor of The Red House. Mark and his constant companion,

MATT CAYLEY, remained in The Red House awaiting the arrival of the brother.

ROBERT, while the house party guests were away playing golf,

When Robert appeared, the parlor maid, startled by his rough appearance, ushered him into Mark's office and went to inform her master. Mark was not in the garden and when the maid returned to the house she heard the report of a revolver and then the sound of Cayley pounding on the locked office door and demanding admittance. This was the state of affairs when

"Who is it?" said Anthony.

"Robert Ablett."

"Oh!" said Anthony. "I thought his name was Mark."

"Yes, Mark Ablett lives here. Robert is his brother." He shuddered, and said, "I was afraid it was Mark."

"Was Mark in the room too?"

"Yes," said Cayley absently. Anthony had gone to the locked door, and was turning the handle. "I suppose he put the key in his pocket," he said, as he came back to the body again.

"Who?"

Anthony shrugged his shoulders.

"Whoever did this," he said, pointing to the man on the floor. "Is he dead?"

"Help me!" said Cayley simply.

They turned the body on to its back, nervously themselves to look at it. Robert Ablett had been shot between the eyes.

"Did you know him well?" said Anthony quietly. He meant, "Were you fond of him?"

"Hardly at all. Mark is the brother I know best. He hesitated, and then said, "Perhaps I'd better get some water."

There was another door opposite to the locked one, which led, as Anthony was to discover for himself directly, into a passage from which opened two more rooms. Cayley stepped into the passage, and opened the door on the right. The door from the office, through which he had gone, remained open. The door at the end of the short passage was shut. Anthony, kneeling by the body, followed Cayley with his eyes, and after he had disappeared, kept his eyes on the blank wall of the passage, but he was not conscious of that at which he was looking, for his mind was with the other man, sympathizing with him.

Cayley came into the room again, murmured something, and knelt down to bathe the dead man's face. Then he placed the handkerchief over it.

They stood up and looked at each other.

"If I can be of any help to you," said Anthony, "please let me."

"That's very kind of you. There will be things to do. But you mustn't let me trespass on your kindness."

"I came to see Beverley. He is an old friend of mine."

"He's out playing golf. He will be back directly."

"I will stay if I can be of any help."

"Please do. You see, there are women."

"Anthony, I'm Mark Ablett's cousin. I live with him."

"My name's Gillingham. I'm sorry I ought to have told you before. Well, now, Mr. Cayley, we shan't do any good by pretending. Here's a man been shot—well, somebody shot him."

Cayley shrugged his shoulders and went to the telephone.

"May I—er—look round a bit?" Anthony nodded toward the open door.

"Oh, do. Yes." He sat down and drew the telephone toward him. "You must make allowances for me. Mr. Gillingham, of course, you're quite right, and I'm merely being stupid. He took off the receiver.

In the right-hand wall, thirty feet away from us, are the French windows. Crossing the room and going out by the opposite door, we come into a passage, from which two rooms lead.

The one on the right, into which Cayley went less than half the length of the office, a small, square room, which has evidently been used same time or other as a bedroom. The window faces the same way as the French windows in the next room. The room on the other side of the bedroom is a bathroom. The three rooms, together, in fact, form a sort of private suite.

Anthony wandered into the bedroom. The window was open, and he looked out at the peaceful stretch of park.

"Cayley thinks he did it," said Anthony to himself. "That's obvious. It explains why he wasted so much time hanging on the door. Why should he try to break a lock when it's so much easier to break a window? Of course, he might just have lost his head on the other hand, he might have wanted to give his cousin a chance of getting away. Why did we run all the way round the house in order to get to the windows?"

There was a step in the passage outside, and he turned round, to see Cayley in the doorway. He remained looking at him for a moment, asking himself a question. It was rather a curious question. He was asking himself why the door was open.

Well, not exactly why the door was open, that would be explained easily enough. But why had he expected the door to be shut. He did not remember shutting it, but somehow he was surprised to see it open now, to see Cayley through the doorway, just coming into the room. Something working subconsciously in his brain had told him that it was surprising. Why?

Cayley joined him at the window. "I've telephoned," he said. "There's sending an inspector or some one from Middletown, and the local police and doctor from Sarton."

Anthony felt quite sure, from what Cayley had said and had hesitated to say, that Mark had been the last to see his brother alive. It didn't follow that Mark Ablett was a murderer.

Remembering an old accident, and what there have been of people lose their heads and run away, fearing that their story will not be believed. Nevertheless, when people run away, whether innocently or guiltily, one can't help wondering which way they went.

"I suppose this way," said Anthony aloud, looking out of the window.

"Well, he didn't go by the windows in the next room, because they were shut."

"Isn't that rather odd?"

"Well, I thought so at first, but—" He pointed to the wall, putting out on the right. "You see, you're protected from the rest of the house if you go out here. If you go out at the French windows, I imagine you're much more visible."

Cayley looked at him thoughtfully. It seems to me Mr. Gillingham, that you know the house pretty well, don't you? That this is the first time you've been in it."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I have been going with a nice young man for a year. A short time ago he asked me if I loved him enough to get married. I told him I loved him but I am not ready to get married. He does not want to get married and doesn't want me to go with other fellows. He doesn't dance or skate, but takes me to shows any time I want to go. I like to dance and skate. If I go to places with girls for that kind of amusement he gets angry. He is jealous and for this reason I am trying to discourage him. He has given me beautiful presents. I told him I was going away and I would never hear from me and he said if I wanted to break his heart I could do that.

JUST EIGHTEEN
You are right not to want to get married so young or before you feel like you have had enough of the pleasure that belongs to youth. If I were in your place I would coax him to learn how to dance when he is alone with him. Once he gets the fever, so to speak, he will be as fond of dancing as you are. If he refuses to try to learn then it is well to discontinue the courtship.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me how old a boy and girl have to be to get married in Ohio without their parents' consent? Thank you.

HAVE EYES.
The girl should be 18 and the boy 21.

Dear Miss Wise—What would you do if you had a husband to tell you to go to street and buy some clothes on payday then get mad because you got them? This is the kind of a husband I have. Give me your advice. Also, Dolly, are Oxford shoes going to be worn this winter with wool hose? What are dresses? Would an old rose-colored dress be all right? Also what is good to make hair curl, and make it thick? I have colored hair and it is so thin I am ashamed of it.

BOBBIE.
If he had promised me that I could have the clothes I'd not bother about the way he accepted results. But of course there are as usual two sides to the affair. You may have gone down the money that should be used to buy the grocery bill; and you might have bought clothes and clothes and clothes with no thought of economizing. You can't blame him for quarreling, can you? Oxford shoes and wool hose will be worn this winter. Various shades of browns and blues will be good. Inquire at the dry goods department for particulars. Your rose-colored dress will be all right and should you get tired of it it can be easily dyed. A good hair tonic can be bought at the drug store. Watch the advertisements.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS
Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the fifties age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.—Advertisement.

Dear Dolly—I am very much in doubt about a boy I love dearly. He always treated me well when I cared nothing for him. Now that I have learned to care for him he does not act naturally. He does not ignore me or slight me in any way, but I can't understand his attitude toward me. We both live in the same neighborhood and I have to pass a certain crowd. This boy used to walk home with me, but now he does not. What I would like to know is how to keep him guessing? I have many boy friends.

PARIS.
To keep him guessing will not make you or the boy happier. The only way to play is to play fairly the game of love and every other game in life. He once loved you and you loved him. He is now toward him kept him guessing, now he has turned the trick, so to speak, and just where does it get either of you?

Dear Dolly—I have been married two years to the best man in the world. He never gave me an unkind word until 3 weeks ago when he got angry and left home because I had my hair bobbed when he had asked me not to do so. Until my hair grows long, I have no parents or near relatives, and now if I have lost my husband's love I have nothing to live for. This father told him if he did not come home he would disown him. He said he would come home when I got to looking like a woman instead of a "fool." He will not come to see his mother because I am here, and he will not let me go home. Do you think he ought to forgive me, as this is the first time I ever did anything to displease him? Can you suggest any way to make him return home?

BROKEN-HEARTED FLO.
This undoubtedly is the first time he ever requested you to do something contrary to your wishes. If he did not love you, he would not take so much interest in your appearance or care how you dressed your hair. He asked you to love your hair long, and if you loved your hair long, and if you loved him you would dress to please him. If you have not said your hair have it made into a part wig, which you can wear across the back of your head under a net.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

TING-A-LING-A-LING!" went Dr. Snuffles' telephone. Nancy was washing the dishes and Nick was weeding the flower bed, so Dr. Snuffles, the fairy doctor, answered the phone himself. It was Mrs. Muskrat.

"Say, doctor," she said in a queer voice, "please don't let anyone know I called you up, but Mark, my husband, is on his way to your house, and, honest to goodness, there isn't a thing the matter with him!"

"That's very strange," answered Dr. Snuffles. "Why should he come to see me then?"

"Because," answered Mrs. Muskrat, "he thinks he's sick. He's got a hundred things the matter with him, he thinks, but he eats enough for 10 people, sleeps like a log, is as fat as a pig and everything."

"But he complains something awful!"

Just as Dr. Snuffles hung up the receiver the door-bell rang and, sure enough, it was Mark Muskrat himself.

"I'm miserable, doctor," he said wretchedly. "Just miserable."

Dr. Snuffles looked at his tongue and pounded him all over and shipped his chest and counted his pulse and then said:

"I know just what is wrong, sir. You're a very sick man. You've got a disease called by a very long name. It's called 'nothingwrongatall!'"

"Goodness!" gasped Mark, turning pale. "Am I as bad as that?"

"Yes," nodded Dr. Snuffles. "but I can cure you." And he sent Nick for a special kind of medicine.

"Why it was only water!" said Nick when Mark Muskrat had gone. "Never mind!" smiled Dr. Snuffles. "His own imagination will do the rest."

19 N. & W. Cars Derailed In Ironton

Traffic on the Portsmouth-Kenova division of the N. & W. was tied up for several hours the result of a serious freight derailment in West Ironton, which occurred at 10 o'clock last night when extra freight train No. 1424 derailed 10 cars.

After investigating the smashup N. & W. officials said Wednesday that the wreck probably was due to a broken arch bar on one of the cars.

Passenger Train No. 3 arrived here an hour late this morning and No. 33 from Kenova was delayed, but not to any great extent as these trains used sidings near the wreck scene. The tracks were torn up for over 200 yards and wrecking crews from Portsmouth and Kenova worked all night to clear up the wreckage. The eastbound track was cleared for traffic at 8 a. m. and the west bound track was opened at 10:30.

The train was in charge of Conductor Everett Wilkerson of 1927 Grant street and Charles Workman of 3031 Gallia street was the engineer. The fireman was George H. Grayson, of Ironton.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC!

In the hope of injuring the political chances of Frank Milhuff, Republican candidate for the nomination for sheriff, a statement has been put in circulation to the effect that Mr. Milhuff remained at work during the labor trouble at the Solby Shoe Co. several years ago. When the workmen walked out of the plant on the day of the strike Mr. Milhuff, who was employed as a fitter, walked out also and did not return to work until the strike was declared off. The statement that Mr. Milhuff worked during the trouble is an absolute falsehood. Mr. Milhuff was a charter member of every organization formed by the shoe workers and is the last man on earth to do anything to injure the chances of the laboring people.

I challenge anyone holding a card to excel me as a union man. I am one from the top of my head to the bottom of my feet—and those who know me know I would not defend anyone who had in anyway enhanced the chances of those who do not believe in unions. I am only too glad to defend the false accusations made against Mr. Milhuff.

Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra Makes Real Music; At Local High School Tonight

A Kitchen Cabinet orchestra?

Many wonder what such an organization could be like and is hard to explain. The best information can be obtained by witnessing the program given by the musicians of this unusual organization. The Kitchen Cabinet orchestra, composed of D. A. R. members of Jackson appeared in the High School auditorium at Sciotoville last night, and to say that it made a big hit is putting it lightly. Tonight the orchestra gives a program in the Portsmouth High School auditorium at eight o'clock. It is appearing under the auspices of the Sciotoville M. E. church.

Every kind of kitchen utensil is used by the orchestra instead of drums, horns and string instruments. A wire toaster is a violin, a curtain rod is a trombone, a folding rack is an accordion, a wash tub a drum and a kitchen cabinet is an organ. A coffee pot, food chopper, wash boiler and broom stick, ice cream freezer and teakettle are also used in the program.

The ladies wear white skirts and shoes, black coats adorned with yellow cloth spoons representing braids, and wear paper sack hats.

The program offered by the musicians, for they are real musicians to get harmony out of the kitchen utensils, includes well known and popular selections, ending with "Good Night, Ladies."

Part of the program follows:
Reader—Mrs. G. H. Harsbarger.
Leader—Miss Jeanette Chestnut.
Solo—"Robin Adair," Mrs. C. C. Hauser.
Trio—"Love's Old Sweet Song," Mesdames Clint Clair, Wm. Peters and James Keerigan.

Quartet—"Oh, Promise Me," Mesdames Nellie Gahn, Hugh Scallenger, Cy Casley and Myrtle Monahan.

Trio—"Carry Me Back To Old Virginia," Mesdames Oscar W. Evans, Nora Griffiths, and Ripley Clair.

Trio—"Oh! Oh! Where?" Mesdames Pearl Griffiths, Walter Evans, and Hugh Scallenger.

Trio—"The Old Gray Mare," Mesdames Wm. Peters, Cranston Clair and Nellie Gahn.

Trio—"K-k-k-katy," Mesdames J. C. Peore, C. C. Hauser and Wm. Peters.

Selections by the Orchestra—"Car-men Ohio," "Beautiful Ohio," "Flight the Team," and "Dixie."

Miss Lillie Long, the left hand drummer who made a complete wreck of one perfectly good wash tub now only fit for junk, made a big hit with her selections. During the intermission with Miss Bertha Sternberger as pianist a vocal solo was given by little "Miss Helen Brown," and he received a big hand when a wig of pretty curls was lifted.

All who missed the orchestra last night should attend tonight.

LANCASTER

CORD and FABRIC TIRES

QUITE a few tires come up to specifications—but don't exceed them. They're the "average run"—and usually worth the money.

And then there are tires produced by manufacturers who know that it is mighty good business to supply heaping measure—to furnish merchandise of such outstanding quality that repeat orders follow as a matter of course.

Lancaster Tires are made by men who know that the motoring public appreciates exceptional tire service.

URGE ELECTORS TO VOTE EARLY

"Vote early" was the slogan sounded by the leaders of the Scioto County Republican Club at its meeting Tuesday night in urging members of the party to participate in the primary election next Tuesday, pointing out that it was not only a privilege but an important duty which every elector should exercise.

It was pointed out that less than twenty per cent of the voters went to the polls at last year's primaries which resulted in the high per capita cost for holding the election.

The session was brief as there was little business up for consideration. Harvey C. Smith, secretary of state, one of the blue Republican candidates for the nomination for governor, had planned to be present and address the club, but at the last hour wired he could not come. The candidate is expected to appear in this city the latter part of the week.

PRINCIPAL WOOD IS RE-ELECTED

The Brush Creek Rural School Board has shown its appreciation of the splendid school spirit that has been brought to the high school at Otway by electing Prof. R. S. Wood principal for the third time.

Principal Wood has put a new spirit in the students attending the Otway high school. He is mapping out a program of athletics for this year that is expected to further increase the school spirit.

Miss Anna Denlinger has been re-appointed home economics teacher in the high school.

Taken To Hospital

Mrs. William A. Lewis, of 710 Tenth street, who was the mother of twins born last Sunday, was taken to Mercy Hospital yesterday, where she will undergo an operation. One of the twins, which were girls, died at birth, but the other one is doing nicely.

Not more laws, but better laws and better enforcement, Jenkins for Senator Committee.

Studebaker Takes Drop

F. E. Bower, local Studebaker dealer Wednesday received notice of a big drop in price in these famous cars, effective August 1.

It ranges from $85 to $315. The Special Six, on which the local company has made a big drive and for merely sold at $1,575, will now be delivered for $1,370, a decrease of $205. A heavier drop was made in the price of the sedan.

PYORRHEA

Try this New Treatment for Pyorrhea, Bleeding, Receding Gums with Loose Teeth—at Our Expense.

Broad minded doctors and dentists who have given MOAYA DENTAL CREAM—a highly concentrated formula for the treatment of Pyorrhea—a trial are astonished at the rapid results obtained.

It seems almost unbelievable but it is a fact nevertheless that a few treatments over a period of one or two days make the gums feel better and reduce the soreness. Used faithfully for one week, a decided improvement is seen. Continue for a few weeks until the gums are healthy, the sponginess and soreness all gone and the teeth are firm and immovable.

All druggists who sell MOAYA TOOTH PASTE are authorized to return the purchase price to anyone who cannot see a decided improvement after its use. Fisher & Streich can supply you.—Advertisement.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AGO
Judge James W. Bannon returned today from Fort Monroe, near Newport News, where he had been by the bedside of his brother-in-law, Lieutenant Colonel Jacob H. Smith, of the Third United States Infantry. Lieutenant Colonel Smith was wounded in the battle of Santiago. He was in command of the infantry at the time and was holding a hill within seven hundred and fifty yards of the battle. It was July 1st and the battle was raging fiercely. Deadly missiles of lead were flying thick and fast. He was in the act of raising his arm and giving a command when a bullet struck him in the middle of back.

Superintendent John Lawler, of the York Manufacturing company, and a force of men were putting in readiness the scraper works at the western terminus of Fourth street.

A C. and O. flyer made a run to Mayville, a distance of fifty-three miles, in sixty-five minutes, the last three miles being made at sixty miles an hour.

The venerable William Givens, of Nile township one of the oldest farmers in Ohio, died at his country home, and had he lived until the next day he would have been eighty seven years of age.

John B. Thomas, 28, of Rushtown, and Ida A. Montgomery, 23, of Otway, were licensed to wed.

A letter received from John Schmitt stated that he was successful in passing an examination and was mustered into company H as a private.

Albert Reinger has organized a ball club for the avowed purpose of dovetailing the Navy for the county championship. The new team lined up: Nichols, Daub, Esselborn, Molter, Davis, Reinger, Cockerill, Correll, Reynolds. The new organization was to be known as the Spider ball club.

Council Tonight
It was indicated today that the regular meeting of City Council tonight will be brief as no matters of special importance are scheduled to come up for consideration.

Is Improving
Oscar Snyder, 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Snyder of Main street, who was badly bruised about the head and shoulders when he walked in his sleep and fell from the hay mow at one of the barns at the race track, is improving. —Piketon Republican.

California's Tragedies

Enough good printers' ink and newspaper space has been wasted on the Hollywood tragedies of Arbuckle and Taylor to put across a national advertising campaign for something useful and beneficial to the people as a nation.

There is satisfaction in knowing, however, that they are quite far away and we do not get the full effect. We are in about the same position in respect to the California tragedies as the catalog house to its customers. One catalog house man said he did not care how much his customers kicked on the quality or fitting of the shoes he sold them as long as they were far enough away that he didn't get the full force, and he only expected to sell a customer one pair anyhow.

I would like to sell you one pair but with the idea that they are going to fit, please and wear so well that they will bring you back again, and believe me if you men want a quiet tip get your feet into that better kind of palm beach oxfords for these hot days,—comfort and service in every pair. A trial proves the worth.

Coolidge Says Industry Changing From Theory Of "Exclusion" To "Inclusion"
WELLESLEY, MASS., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Industry is changing from "the theory of exclusion to the theory of inclusion," Vice President Coolidge declared today in an address outlining the development of industrial democracy in the United States before the ninth annual Wellesley industrial conference.
The trend toward this condition is already taking place in many industries, Mr. Coolidge added, citing the encouragement given employees to purchase stock, which "gives them ownership." They are also acquiring "management," he said, through inducements to make suggestions for the better conduct of the business, to apply their inventive ability, to share in determining their wages and conditions of labor, and benefit from the general prosperity and of the concern for which they work by means of sliding scales and piece work.
Discussing the discontent growing out of the war-inflation of business, prices, values and wages and the attempt to relieve it through "the general effort to get more and give less," as preceding the "inevitable reaction and depression," Mr. Coolidge found that "the only recourse left is in spiritual things."
"We need a fuller realization and a broader comprehension of the meaning both of political and economic democracy," he said.
"Democracy," he continued, "is obedience to the rule of the people. The failure to appreciate this double function of the citizen has led to much misunderstanding."
"One of the great tragedies of American institutions is the experience of those who come here expecting to be able to rule without rendering obedience."

Probe Wreck Of Trains
CINCINNATI, O., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Investigation into the Cincinnati Lebanon and Northern railroad accident, which claimed six lives and injured approximately 50 men, women and children yesterday at Lester Station, near Pleasant Ridge, was begun today by three sets of officials, state, county and railroad. W. F. Packard and H. M. Gray, of the state utilities commission, Coroner D. C. Handley and his assistants and Superintendent R. C. Barnard, of the Pennsylvania railroad, controlling the C. Hard Coal Wage Parley To Resume
PHILADELPHIA, PA., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Resumption of the wage conference of Anthracite coal operators and representatives of the miners was considered almost certain today by persons in close touch with the situation and the hope was expressed that they would result in an early settlement of the controversy that has kept approximately 150,000 hard coal diggers idle since April 1.
A date for the meeting probably will be fixed in a few days. It will have nothing to do with the interstate joint bituminous conference called by Mr. Lewis to meet in Cleveland on August 7.
S. D. Warfield, head of the operators' committee, said the mine owners were "ready and willing" to reopen the meetings with representatives of the miners.

German Steel Prices Take Big Jump
BERLIN, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The German steel producers today announced an unexpected increase in the price of finished steel as a result of the currency depreciation and increased costs of coal and labor. The new price list provides for an increase of $400 marks a ton for bar iron and the other products are raised proportionately. The steel producers' organization says the new prices were approved at a conference participated in by representatives of the producers, dealers and consumers.

Jitneys Must Have License
TOLEDO, O., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Mayor Brongh has ordered the police department to arrest all jitney operators without licenses, following reports to him that some of the buses whose license had expired, were continuing in the traffic.

Billion Dollar OVER-SUBSCRIPTION
WASHINGTON, August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Nearly a billion dollar over-subscription to the treasury's new issue of four and one-quarter per cent short term notes is announced by Secretary Mellon. Subscriptions for the issue, which was about $500,000,000, he stated, aggregated over $1,200,000,000, all of the federal reserve districts reporting over-subscriptions of their quotas.
Exchanges of four and three-quarter per cent victory notes for the new treasury notes, he announced, are proceeding satisfactorily.
The books are being kept open until August eighth in order to give victory note holders throughout the country additional time to take advantage of the opportunity to make the exchange.

Darlington Says He Was Misquoted
COLUMBUS, O., August 2.—(By the Associated Press)—In a letter to State Treasurer Archer, Charles L. Darlington, state commander of the American Legion, says that he was misquoted in his Tiffin speech of last Sunday, in which it was reported he had said there were still $500,000,000 of bonds in the state treasury. Mr. Darlington says he said the unrepaid balance was from $500,000,000 to $700,000,000, intending to emphasize the point that there was no occasion for delay in paying bonuses because of any lack of funds.
"My reason for making the point is that some newspapers not understanding the situation have stated that no claims can be paid until ninety days after the passage of the recent act of the legislature appropriating an additional sum for the payment of adjusted compensation claims."

Dougherty took the boys to Chillicothe to catch an early R. & O. train. There were about 75 on the train bound for Camp Knox.

An automobile accident occurred Monday afternoon halfway between Waverly and Chillicothe at the first turn of the road this side of Lewisville. A Dodge sedan occupied by Mrs. Florence Rader and daughters Phyllis and Christina and son Neil, who was driving, was sideswiped by a Chandler sedan occupied by two men from Portsmouth. The collision caused the steering wheel to fly out of Neil's hands, and headed the car for the steep bank on the left of the road. The brakes were applied but the car went down a ten foot bank onto a small ledge and would have gone down a long, long bank were it not for a wire fence which held the car on the ledge. Mrs. Rader suffered an injured hip but the others were uninjured. The Chandler car did not leave the road. A crowd quickly gathered and pulled the Dodge back on the road. Neither car was damaged much. The riders were enroute to Chillicothe when the accident happened.

Charles Vallery's Samson truck was badly damaged Monday afternoon. He had gone out to Griffiths' for a load of logs and was attempting to back up to the pen which was on a hillside. As the ground was soft he decided to net on chains so started to jack up the back wheel. However the brakes failed to hold it on the hill and the machine ran off the jack and about seventy five yards down the hill and struck by a convenient iron smasher the radiator and breaking a wheel. Luckily no one was in the machine at the time. The damage is in excess of $200.

GAMES THIS WEEK
Wednesday, August 2—Vulcan Last vs. Central Labor.
Thursday, August 3—N. & W. vs. Excelsior.
Friday, August 4—N. & W. vs. Central Labor.

The Excelsiors had little trouble in defeating the Vulcan Lasts last evening 7 to 4, and this moved them above the 500 percentage mark. While the Excelsiors won, they did not enhance their pennant possibilities, for the Central Labor Lads are now away in front.

The game this evening will be a better struggle, for the leaders clash and "Doc" Daughman will be out for revenge.

The game last night was featured by the all around playing and hitting of Cliff Lowry as well as the back-swing work of "Teddy" Weber. Lowry made two outches in right that saved at least three runs, while at the home plate a double and single.

Greene pitched a clever game for the Shoemakers, although some crude support almost upset the basket. Meyers started for the Vulcan Lasts and was taken out in the fifth, being replaced by Manager Shultz, who was a little wild.

The Vulcan Lasts had a pitcher at short, second and in right field, which shows they did not have their usual defensive apparatus to use, although there could be no complaint as to the fielding of these substitutes. The game as played:

FIRST INNING
Shultz walked. Stuten laid one down, but Greene tossed it in the crowd, the runners moving up. Haupt got a sacrifice fly to middle. Shultz scored. Hollins grounded to Ellessor. Keyser was tossed out by Hengsen. One run, no hits, one error.

Stewart fanned. Weber was tossed out by Shultz at second. Stuten fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING
Greene rolled to the box. Sider grounded to Ellessor. Baughman hit the same way. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Barber skied to Keyser. Hengsen singled over Shultz. Lowry doubled L. left. Hengsen scoring. Ellessor fanned. Cunningham rolled to Rollins. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING
Meyers singled to middle, a real smash. Shultz sacrificed. Stuten fouled to Weber. Haupt grounded to Doherty. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Greene fanned. Stewart's single went through Haupt for a triple. Weber rolled to Shultz. Stewart scored. Doherty fanned. One run, one hit, no errors.

FOURTH INNING
Rollins was tossed out by Greene. Haupt skied. Ellessor to Barber. Grease singled through Ellessor. Sider was tossed out by Ellessor. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Barber beat out a slow roller. Hengsen was tossed out by Meyers, but Barber came home on Stuten's wild pitch to third. Lowry rolled to Meyers. Ellessor walked. Meyers tossed out Cunningham. One run, one hit, one error.

FIFTH INNING
Baughman fanned. Meyers was safe. Doherty's fumble. Shultz singled the first second. Meyers going to third. Haupt skied to middle. Meyers scored. Haupt fouled to Weber. Rollins skied to Lowry. One run, two hits, no errors.

Greene fanned. Haupt. Stewart fanned to Keyser. Weber singled to left. Doherty singled to middle. Barber fanned to Keyser. No runs, two hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING
Keyser tripled to middle. Goode sent a fly to Lowry. Keyser scoring. Sider flied to Cunningham. Baughman fouled to Weber. A magnificent catch. One run, one hit, no errors.

Hengsen doubled to left. Lowry beat out an intended sacrifice. Shultz went to the mound and Meyers singled. Lowry stole. Ellessor singled through Meyers. Hengsen and Lowry scoring. Hengsen took second on the throw in. Cunningham walked. Grease flied to Stuten. Stewart beat out a hit to short, filling the bases. Doherty was tossed out by Meyers. Cunningham scoring. Barber flied to Rollins. Four runs, four hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING
Meyers fanned. Shultz singled over short. Stuten rolled to short and Ellessor missed Doherty's assist. Shultz scored on Haupt's force of Stuten. Hollins' roller rolled through the infield for a single. Keyser rolled to third. One run, two hits, one error.

BROWNS WIN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2.—Pitching well in the pinches, Ray Kulp hurled the Browns to their fourth consecutive victory over the Red Sox 5 to 2 Tuesday. A three run rally in the seventh inning decided the game in favor of the locals. McManus and Williams hit home runs. It was Williams' 27th circuit drive of the season and his fifth in the last five days. The Browns increased their lead to two games as a result of their victory, while the Chicago-New York game was called on account of rain. The score:

FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Behind Ray Kulp's steady hurling the St. Louis Browns won their fourth straight game from the Red Sox and increased their lead over the Yankees, whose game with Chicago was halted in the fourth inning by rain, to two full games. The St. Louis Nationals, idle because of rain, profited by the Browns' fourth consecutive victory over the Giants and are within a few percentage points of first place.

Cobb's men, with Cobb himself leading in the batting attack, made a clean sweep of the four game series with the Athletics and went into a tie with the White Sox for third place in the league race. Cobb's two hits increased his record of hitting in consecutive games to 10.

The Browns' victory was marked by Williams' twenty-seventh home run, placing him in a tie with Hornsby of the Cardinals for major league circuit batters.

Cleveland took another heavy hitting encounter from the Senators 17-3. Gruber, the Indian third sacker, led the attack on the Washington hurlers with a home, three doubles and a single in five times at bat.

THE STATE SENATORSHIP

MORE than usual interest should attach to the race for the republican nomination for state senator from the combined seventh-eighth districts. Owing to the eighth district falling below population requirements, it had to be hitched onto the seventh, and this has given an unwieldy and most unsatisfactory district from almost every standpoint. The new district is something like 15,000 or 18,000 republican and this of course assures the election of whoever wins the republican nomination. In the present instance the democrats have no candidate entered for the primary, at least if they have not heard of one, but in any event, we consider the fight a republican one purely, and for that reason wish to discuss candidates in that primary as a citizen interested in this section of the state. There are three candidates, Joseph A. Shriver, of Manchester, Adams county, Senator C. K. Patterson, of Pikeston, Pike county, and Thomas A. Jenkins, of Ironton, Lawrence county. Of the three, Mr. Shriver, a most excellent gentleman, has been an aspirant for the nomination for a number of years, but has failed chiefly owing to his geographical location. There is no indication this time that republicans are inclined to throw the nomination to Adams county, however much it may be deserved, and the fight is generally accepted as being between Senator Patterson and Mr. Jenkins.

Mr. Patterson is serving his second term as senator from the seventh district. During his incumbency he has made a good, sane, steady business-like record. He has been conscientious and faithful. He has neither been a wild-eyed radical nor yet a hide-bound conservative, but has been downright sensible. He has been loyal to his constituents, whether farmer, manufacturer, employer or employee. In party matters we think he has been too bitterly partisan, but that objection will hardly find an echo in republican hearts.

Mr. Jenkins has served as prosecuting attorney of Lawrence county. He made a good record, so far as we know. Personally he is an agreeable and likable gentleman, a man of good character and good habits. He is an earnest breezy chap and has many friends. He is being boosted however, by both the republican and democratic papers in Ironton, not for any special fitness he may possess but because he hails from Ironton and can be depended upon to represent Ironton first and the rest of the district afterwards. We do not like that characteristic Ironton touch in his candidacy. It inclines us to look with suspicion therefore upon Mr. Jenkins' candidacy.

With the above condition confronting them, The Times sees every reason why the republicans of Portsmouth and adjoining counties in this senatorial district should rally to the support of Senator C. K. Patterson, at the primary. He should be supported by republicans throughout the joint district who have the legislative interests of the district at heart. They can feel safe in supporting a worker, a farmer, a business man, a man with splendid legislative experience. They can depend upon him to see legislative matters from a district rather than from a narrow home town viewpoint.

The best interests of the seventh-eighth district calls for the nomination of Senator C. K. Patterson at the republican primary next Tuesday, it seems to us.

SAMUEL ANOINTS DAVID

GOD told Samuel to go to Beth-lehem to a man named Jesse and anoint one of his sons to be king. Samuel did as the Lord commanded. He sanctified Jesse and his sons and called them to the sacrifice. Jesse had seven sons pass before Samuel, but Samuel said that the Lord had chosen none of these. Jesse said he had another son, David the youngest, who was keeping the sheep. They sent and brought him in. David's face was beautiful. The Lord said: Arise, anoint him; for this is he. And the spirit of the Lord came upon David.

"From the information," said the Court, "it appears that the prisoner is charged with bigamy." "Oh!" breathed a woman juror, suddenly attentive, "how perfectly lovely!"

White Supremacy

They were a couple of ex-dough-bors, but had been out of the Army so long that they had forgotten the difference between fighting and fighting and freedom and starting and all the rest of it, and remembered only the good times and the free-for-all excitement. Civilian life had become so monotonous that they decided something had to be done about it.

"Let's hear it for 'Chin'," suggested one. "There's a good war going on and there ought to be some excitement, because they got three armies." "No," objected the other, "let's go to Ireland. They got one army three per cent."

Ready To Work

Two piteers of the dusty road were discussing the alleged corrupt practices of modern politicians. "Bill," said one, "you don't hanker after a politician job, do you?" "I don't mind sayin' I'd take one if I could get it," retorted the other, "but I ain't after no job that's all 'right. I'm willin' to earn my wages."

"What sort of a job would be your idea?" "Well, I'd like to fill fountain pens for some assistant secretary of the treasury."

TELLS POLICE HE WAS SWINDLED

A man giving the name of Milos Curcie, a foreman, came into police headquarters this afternoon with a tale of how he had been swindled out of $2,000, the savings of a lifetime of himself and brother, by two of his countrymen.

Curcie was to have started a pool room with the two strangers on the $2,000 as his share of the deal and he accordingly, he says, drew the required sum from the First National bank, leaving balance of $420. The strangers bent him out of town and left Curcie holding the bag, he says. How they did it forms one of the most novel trickery schemes in local police circles for some time. One of the strangers claimed to have $25,000 left him by his father and he gave Curcie the money, supposedly money, to hold pending the deal. When settlement for the poolroom was to be made this morning and the two men did not show up, Curcie looked at the money and found three one dollar bills had been neatly bound around a roll of paper to represent the $25,000, he says.

Curcie has an invalid brother to who he says $1,700 belonged.

Batteryman Has Close Call

When Albert Mathews, batteryman at the C. F. Etzkorn company, was tightening the brake on an electric car while working underneath the car in front of the Etzkorn shop on Fourth street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, he turned the controller, which is on the same shaft as the brake, and started the car forward.

A shout from underneath caused Fred Etzkorn, who was in the car at the time, to arrest the movement of the machine after he saw that it was moving and probably saved Mathews from being passed over by the left rear wheel. The right shoulder of Mathews was bruised when he was dragged about three feet before the power was shut off.

The presence of Mr. Etzkorn in the machine saved Mathews from serious injury as the machine would have passed over his neck, which was in the path of the wheel. Mathews lives at 1543 Fourth street.

CONVERTED LANDMARK INTO DOMICILE FOR DOGS

MILWAUKEE, WIS., August 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Through years of decadence, Jane, Margaret and Charles Mellon, all middle-aged, occupied the Mellon home here, once a social center, with blinds drawn, unmolested by neighbors.

Only was centered in their pets. Yesterday smoke issuing from upper windows summoned firemen and police to the darkened old house. The fire was trivial, but in examining the house, firemen found nine dead dogs enshrouded in old furs and shawls. Eight living dogs were found. Enthusiasm of a roll of $5,000.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. C. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, August 2. He is a philanderer—one of those "Twin Topic Freds" who forgets just how many times he has been married. Just now he is attached to a rather bizarre foreigner who is devoted to smokes and Baltic housewines and scotch Irishman's antics.

There is a story that he divorced a gold-digger who had become impoverished by the Russian debacle and came to New York to open an exotic tea room in the Forties. Fred-die, which is not his name—had just gone through a trying divorce suit with a rich and captivating character. As a result he was forced to give up his box at the opera, his yacht, Long Island chateau and Maine shooting lodge. He took modest lodgings over the Russian tea room and one night he met her.

In a black evening gown, she had that regal mysterious charm that has lured men since Venus rose from the foam. And when Fred-die saw that everywhere they went people craned their necks and were anxious to meet her, he had an idea.

The lady closed the tea room and went to Europe for a few weeks. Before her return stories began to appear about the expected arrival of a celebrated gold-digger. Her wealth was reported to be fabulous, and when she arrived she was welcomed in one of the finest hotels in town.

The jeweler, dress-makers, milliners and the like besieged her and she bought prodigiously. In a crowd of course, with no one to ask. As the story goes, when of the pile of chased material was pawned for cash and with this Fred-die made a plunge into the stock market.

A quick turn of the market left a certain old stockholder in a losing fortune. All the talk was paid and Fred-die has become the laughing stock of the world again.

Indeed, he said to a friend the other day: "I think you know here in America will eventually drive me to Europe permanently. It is almost impossible for me to get a good night's sleep."

And one of the most magnificent estates at Glen Cove is called "the Shack." There is a reason for this baroque of names. Little cottages sold at real estate auctions were provided with opulent names such as "Oak-
